The Story of Ace, the Dog that Comes from Space Sep 28 2019 "Dedicated to those who, in spite of everything, don't want to lose their smiles." - A19 What happens when an author, such as Anna "Annina" Lorenzi, of stories, novels, and poetry decides to write a book illustrated ironically, and she encounters "the pencil" of a famous cartoonist, such as Lele Corvi? Well, what a question, Ace is born! The story of Ace was written with a smile to make readers smile, but also to reflect. It's a book for everyone. If a range of ages had to be specified, it would surely be "from 0 to 100." Ace is determined, with his principles, his ideas, and his convictions, but he also is one who knows how to be ironic and to "play" with his weaknesses, his uncertainties, and delusions, reflecting on himself and on the world in which he was "catapulted" when born. (And he also really loves his friends, cuddles, and dog biscuits!) Ace will know how to make himself loved, immediately, because - as Lele Corvi writes in his preface - "...even though he comes from another planet and is a dog, he is one of us. Ace is EVERYONE of us." Let yourself be won over by this little dog! Enjoy! - Anna "Annina" Lorenzi - Born the 26th of October, 1981. She went to two years of classical studies high school, followed by four years of artistic studies high school, without being able to resist dedicating herself to her passions: writing, music, photography, her beloved dogs, engines, travelling and nature. Talking about work, she really does "a little bit of everything," so much so that, together with some friends, she founded a company in Texas that deals with classic cars. Participating in writing contests and working with some Italian magazines, she has published various short stories and articles. Currently, she shares her creative writing on her personal site (annina19.com). She also promotes her previous literary publications, internationally. - Lele Corvi - Currently a cartoonist for the Italian newspapers Il Manifesto, Eco di Bergamo and Il Cittadino, he also draws cartoons a web portal dedicated to cinema, and for a website and magazine about catering. He is also the author of comic strips appearing in various editions of the day planner Comix, and for a few years in Focus Junior. Recently, he realized the drawings for the graphic novel Vita eccessiva di John Belushi (2019). Gabriele is also the author of various collections of cartoons, cartoon strips, and of children's books. He has collaborated with Corriere della Sera, Gazzetta dello Sport, Avvenire, Banca Intesa, Amsa Milano, Yamaha, Procter&Gamble, Citroen, 3BMeteo, Edicola Fiore and others. He has also created covers, comics and book illustrations for various publishing houses. In addition, Gabriele has had personal exhibits, and his works have also been present in many collective exhibits. He has also won some national and international prizes dedicated to satire and comic strips. - Translator - Starleen K. Meyer has been translating from Italian into English for years: academic works in the broad humanities field, such as on architectural or music history, but also literary works. She has her B.A. in art, her M.A. and Ph.D. in art history, and has also published contributions in scholarly books and journals. That Old Ace in the Hole Apr 27 2022 Pulitzer Prize and National Book Award winner Annie Proulx's That Old Ace in the Hole is told through the eyes of Bob Dollar, a young Denver man trying to make good in a bad world. Dollar is out of college but aimless, when he takes a job with Global Pork Rind -- his task to locate big spreads of land in the Texas and Oklahoma panhandles that can be purchased by the corporation and converted to hog farms. Dollar finds himself in a Texas town called Woolybucket, whose idiosyncratic inhabitants have ridden out all manner of seismic shifts in panhandle country. These are tough men and women who witnessed first hand tornadoes, dust storms, and the demise of the great cattle ranches. Now it's feed lots, hog farms, and ever-expanding drylands. Dollar settles into LaVon Fronk's old bunkhouse for fifty dollars a month, helps out at Cy Frease's Old Dog Café, targets Ace and Tater Crouch's ranch for Global Pork, and learns the hard way how vigorously the old owners will hold on to their land, even though their children want no part of it. Robust, often bawdy, strikingly original and intimate, The Old Ace in the Hole tracks the vast waves of change that have shaped the American landscape and the character over the past century. In Bob Dollar, Proulx has created one of the most irresistible characters in contemporary fiction.

How to Be Ace Jan 13 2021 Selected as a 2020 LGBTQIA+ Graphic Novel for Young Readers by Publishers Weekly "When I was in school, everyone got to a certain age where they became interested in talking about only one thing: boys, girls and sex. Those of us that have known that love, are never complete without a horse in their lives.A quote, by fellow horse-lover, Candy Jacomella-Blass perspective can teach all of us about desire and identity. What exactly is sexual attraction and what is it like to go through life not experiencing it? What does asexuality reveal about gender roles, about romance and consent, and the pressures of society? This accessible examination of asexuality shows that the issues that aces face—confusion around sexual activity, the intersection of sexuality and identity, navigating different needs in relationships—are the same conflicts that nearly all of us will experience. Through a blend of reporting, cultural criticism, and memoir, Ace addresses the misconceptions around the “A” of LGBTQIA and invites everyone to rethink pleasure and intimacy. Journalist Angela Chen creates her path to understanding her own asexuality with the perspectives of a diverse group of asexual people. Vulnerable and honest, these stories include a woman who had blood tests done because she was convinced that “not wanting sex” was a sign of serious illness, and a man who grew up in a religious household and did everything “right,” only to realize after marriage that his experience of sexuality had never been the same as that of others. Disabled aces, aces of color, gender-nonconforming aces, and aces who both do and don’t want romantic relationships all share their experiences navigating a society in which a lack of sexual attraction is considered abnormal. Chen’s careful cultural analysis explores how societal norms limit understanding of sex and relationships and celebrates the breadth of sexuality and queerness.
